Free for ACI Manitoba members/ $5 for non member's

6:30pm - 8:30pm

Buchwald Room at the Millennium Library, 2nd Floor, 251 Donald Street

Instructor: Sue Hemphill

Arts-based Community Development (ABCD) or community collaborative arts practice projects are happening all over Manitoba in many different types of communities.

What are the challenges that these projects (both the community developers and the artists engaging community) are facing in undertaking these projects? What does this field or arts and community development practice require for growth to the next level? This session will provide an overview of this activity in Manitoba and share best practice strategies for further development of the field.

Sue Hemphill is an arts-based community developer who works with under-served and under-represented communities. She develops programs and projects to increase access, equity and diversity. She currently works as an organizational and human resources development consultant in both the private and public sector with a focus on the arts and cultural sector and social justice/development organizations.
